JUNE 2015

THE GLOBAL ETHICS FORUM

Written by Prof Deon Rossouw

The Sixth Global Ethics Forum was hosted in Geneva on 25 and 26 June 2015, and EthicsSA participated actively in this event.

Prof Deon Rossouw and Dorothy Gao

The Global Ethics Forum is an annual event organised by Globethics.net, a Swiss-based Foundation that seeks to build and empower a world-wide community of persons committed to advancing ethics. Globethics.net achieves its mission mainly through its open access library, the forums that it create for people to connect either face-to-face or electronically, and through joint projects that it facilitates with people from all regions of the world (see www.globethics.net).

EthicsSA was represented at the Global Ethics Forum by its CEO, Prof Deon Rossouw, who serves on the Advisory Board of the Global Ethics Forum and who has participated in all six Forums that was held thus far. To read more click here

In an interactive manner we're going to experience how to make positive ethics actionable. By means of an appreciative inquiry, which in essence is about conversations for positive transformation, we will co-construct a definition of positive ethics, discover the positive core of applied ethics, dream about the possibilities of positive ethics and design for delivering on positive ethics.

Date: 24 July 2015

Venue: Blandford Manor, Randburg

RSVP compulsory by 13 July, email Mandy at mandy@ethicssa.org for more information.
